HAROLD STEALS SHOW

Harold (Choo-Choo) Farris, former Elba high grid star, has been given considerable publicity in The Clipper this season but we feel that he deserves it. According to reports of the last Troy State game Farris came near being the "whole show."

Monday's Montgomery Advertiser said: "Harold Farris turned in an amazing running performance here Saturday night to lead the Troy State Red Wave to a well-earned 25-13 victory over Livingston State in a bitterly fought intra-state game."

"Tonight's victory ended Troy State's home stand and gave the Wave a record of four victories against five defeats. An estimated crowd of 3,000 watched Farris gain 133 out of the Wave's 185 yards, rushing for an average of seven yards per try. The talented back went over for two touchdowns, one of them a beautiful 25-yard gallop."

TRIP DIES A BORNIN'

Andy Kimmy, Elliott Kendrick, Wayne Hamm, Owen Zagar and Buddy E. Lee had made all preparations to make a trip to Jackson, Miss., to spend the weekend with the former schoolmate Jimmy Corbitt. They intended to see Jimmy play football as he is a star on the Jackson High team.

Four of the boys went to the home of Buddy English who lives about two miles south of town. The quietest were returning to Elba early in the morning when in front of the residence of Grell Hall on the old Elba-Samson highway, the car hit a sand bed, skidded and overturned. Andy Kimmy was the driver of his parents' car.

None of the boys were injured but the car was too badly damaged to make the trip so it had to be abandoned.

DRUG, COOK & SINKER

When I went into Whitman drug store morning last week, Miss Frances Elsenbaker asked me if I had any more of the ten out of the hospital. I was easy fish and asked her how come she said he slid over the head and so fast it covered so much territory, he had to go to the hospital to have the corkie, bruiser picked out of him.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS

Street Supt. F. L. Calhoun stated Monday that Jimmy Foley has been instructed by the city to have the Christmas lights around the square and adjacent streets.

Partly to pacify Jimmy and also to have Elba string the lights showing the Yule spirit, Fitzgibbon and Jimmy got busy Monday morning and made a quick job of installing the new colored lights used for this purpose.

SS CLASS CONTEST

The attendance contest started by the Men's Bible Class at the Elba Methodist Sunday school three weeks ago shows the odds leading to the winners. Still three more weeks to run in the contest. Losers have to buy a supper for the winners.

JOHN BURTON HARPER HURT

John Burton Harper, son of Mr. & Mrs. Fred Harper and student at API, Auburn was seriously injured in a car collision Sunday night near Opelika in one of the worst accidents of the year. Four Auburn students were killed along with an expectant mother and her husband.

The six Auburn students were returning from Columbus, Ga. to Auburn after seeing the football game Saturday afternoon. It is reported that the car was off the edge of the highway and in trying to get back on the pavement, the car veered along the shoulder for 133 yards before it slid sharply back across the road at right angles. The other car, a 1937, was hit and both overturned and burst into flame immediately.

John Burton Harper and the woman in the other car were thrown clear but the other was killed. The car was removed from Opelika hospital to Montgomery Monday where it is receiving treatment for severe injuries. His pelvis is reported fractured in two places, a leg broken, his spine injured and a gas sustained on his head plus bruises and lacerations.

Troy Contests Finishes Local Grid Program

The Elba football season will come to a close Friday night when the Trojans of Troy High school tangle with the Tigers at the local stadium. Kickoff time is 7:30.

Coach Buckner said Tuesday morning that the Tigers are in better physical condition than they have been for several weeks and he has reason to believe they will make a good showing. He said Jimmy Bowdoin has improved from injuries which have benched him in recent games. The Trojans have a fair record this season and can be counted upon to be tough competition.

Coffee Lake Fishermen Do Better in 1952

The Alabama Conservation Department's Division of Parks says that Coffee County Public Fishing Lake, located north of Elba, produced approximately three times as many fish during 1951-52 as during the preceding year.

The 80-acre lake, opened to the public in May 1951, produced 83,938 broom and bass weighing 22,714 pounds in 1951-52 compared with a catch of 26,665 fish weighing 7,681 pounds in 1950-51.

State Parks Chief James L. Seeger said Coffee Lake had 7,945 visitors last year compared with 15,574 the year before.

He said the gain in fish and in total pondage caught was partially due to use of 106,000 lb. of fertilizer in the lake's waters during the past year.

Kilgo, in planning the lake is located on a 202 1/2 acre plot of ground owned to the public for recreational purposes.

Seeger said attendance and fish catch figures indicated the average fisherman took between two and three times as many fish at Coffee Lake last year as the year before.

NO DETOUR
At a busy intersection in Elba, Ala., a traffic signal turned red, a four-door sedan called to a stop, completely blocking the pedestrian crosswalk. Instead of following a flow of pedestrians around the front and rear of the car, a middle-aged man walked straight ahead, opened the rear door, climbed through the car and stepped out the other door, leaving both doors wide open, while amid the honking of horns the driver stared bewildered after his retreating form.
PUNNY PASTER
"Hello, operator, I would like to call the Reverend Smith in New York. This is the Reverend Turner calling."
"Is this a station-to-station call?"
"No, it's not. I'm foolish, you see, lady, this is a person-to-person call."
"Shakespearean actor (on stage):
"A horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse."
Benevolent hunkie (in back row):
"Oh, all right, but Woodchuck in the fifth at Washington Park."
Wouldn't Break Pair
Mad wife: "Why did you buy two elephants?"
Inebriated husband: "The man wouldn't break up the pair."
No Commercial, Please
The race is not always to the swift, said the cow as she galloped up the gangplank to Armour's operating room.
LIKES CAMELS
A civil servant who had been stationed in Egypt and was about to return to England had a small son who showed a touching attachment to a statue of General Gordon mounted on a camel. The boy begged for a farewell visit. "Good-bye, Gordon," he sobbed. The father was moved by such patriotic sensibility. Then, as they turned away, the youngster asked suddenly, "Daddy, who's that man on Gordon?"
SCHOLARSHIP PLAYER
A woman trying to maneuver her sedan out of a parking space banged into the car ahead, then, pulling into the street, struck a passing delivery truck. A policeman who had been watching approached her. Let's see your license," he demanded.
"Don't be silly, officer," she said. "Who'd give me a license?"
Excitement
Calling to his three sons who were peacefully slumbering: Zek, Jim, Pete—hurry! Get up! Pull out your clothes, get up the stairs, light the cow—the lantern has a call!

Another of the school's clubs is the Beta Club under the direction of Mrs. Ola B. Kendrick. It is now selling its yearbook, and invites everyone to attend.

Club members are Donald Brunson, Pete Morrow, John Milton, Wise, Thomas Prescott, Tommy Wise, Bobby Brunson and Jimmy Bowdoin.

The club plans to initiate three new members this year. They are: Harry Jacobs, Jimmy Hudson and Roy Price, who earned their letters during basketball season last year.

The group has voted to award baseball letters for the coming season.

Next week an article on the Future Homemakers of America club and the FFA will complete the roundup of the five active student groups at the school.

—37 Years Ago—

A fine showing was made by all Elba people who entered exhibits at the Pike County Fair. O. C. Smith entered three Bertha dogs and won first prize over one-year-old; second on a sow over one-year and second on a sow over one-year; also great championship all breeds in the show. J. V. Mays won first on Berkshire gilt under one-year and second all the way through on their respective breeds of poultry. Combined cash prizes amounted to well over $100. All deserve great credits and others should rally to their support in representing Coffee County at fairs in the future.

FIRST AID

Mining Town Is 'Safety-Wise'

All the Year

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo.—Three boys are walking down the main street. School is out and the prospect of the long summer recess makes spirits soar. Playfully, one youngster shoves another. He stumbles and falls against the large plate glass window of a department store and crashes through it.

An instant later, a red fountain spurts from his right arm where a razor-edged piece of glass has slashed through the artery. For a second he stares dumbly at the fast-flowing blood, then runs down the street, crying hysterically.

One of his two companions springs into action. He chases his panicked friend, catches him and knocks him to the pavement. Skilled fingers probe the arm pit where the wound and the flow of blood stops.

With his finger on the pressure point, the quick-witted youth orders the blood to summon an ambulance. Had the youngster been ignorant of first aid, his friend could have died in a minute and a half.

This is just one of several examples showing how knowledge of first aid has paid off in Rock Springs, a coal mining town in southwestern Wyoming.

The coal company has the nation's top mine safety record. Recognizing the importance of an essential part of any safety program, Union Pacific coal sponsor an annual first aid rally and contest.

This year's contest is held in the coal company's Old Timers' association building. The competing teams worked in ten-foot squares, laid out in a circle in the middle of the auditorium floor. At a given signal, each team competes for the first aid problem in a sealed envelope.

Interest in the contest is keen, and the awards ceremony late in the afternoon is attended by spectators from the girls and adult members of the community. Watchers went to the winning young girls, matched luggage to the senior girls, portable radios to the boys and $40 to each member of the winning men's team. Lesser prizes went to all other competitors.

Well, they did in a way. You see, the plant manufactured a chemical chlorophyll, a fresh sweetener.

Now is the time to top dress oats with other grasses. It is recommended that 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre be applied to grazing crops as soon as they are up to a good stand.

Roy Barlow has cut his stalks to the ground. Stalks should be cut as soon as the cotton and corn is gathered. Conservationists throughout the south are talking about crop residue management. This means handling your crop residue so that it will help build up the soil.

One of his two companions springs into action. He chases his panicked friend, catches him and knocks him to the pavement. Skilled fingers probe the arm pit where the wound and the flow of blood stops.

Getting Around

By Mac Brown

Last week I was in Montgomery and watched the parade there. I like parades, military music and marching bands, and they had some of the best. Lots of them were from high schools in different Alabama towns.

Of course, me being a truck driver I was very interested in the use of trucks in the parade. One completely motorized military unit passed by in each truck about twenty soldiers were seated, face to face with their rifles in their hands. Most people don't realize how much it helps to have trucks to transport not only supplies but the soldiers too—to bring them into position quickly and not worn out from marching.

Fred Clark of the Air Force, stationed at Lackland AFB near San Antonio, Texas, home on leave, called on his parents, Mr. & Mrs. Berry Clark. Over the weekend Mr. & Mrs. Robert Colquett and sons of Gadsden visited his parents and giving thanks for it. But as he knew that man does not live by bread alone, so man should not give thanks for bread alone. Most of Jesus' prayers of thanksgiving are for other and higher blessings.

Some well-known writer once commented on our custom of saying "Grace before meat"—the old expression for what is now often called "taking the blessing" at the table. His God and other blessings for us?

When a person sits down with a great play (say by Shakespeare) in his hand, why not a "Grace before Shakespeare"? How many of us have a little prayer of thanksgiving before reading a book of poetry or going out to look up at the stars on a clear night, or before opening a letter from an old friend or before going to the hospital or the dentist? (Yes, indeed, the dentist may not seem like a blessing, but try to stand a toothache all by yourself, or try to imagine going to his office, or to the hospital, before the days of modern medicine, surgery, X-rays, anesthetics and sanitation!)

Blessings of the Spirit—Jesus' prayer of thanksgiving, which our lesson Scripture records, however, is on a higher plane still. The particular blessing for which he thanks the Lord of heaven and earth is in the first place a spiritual one, and in the second place it is not something that came to him but to some one else. He thanks God that a spiritual light has been seen by his most humble friends.

Can we say that many of our prayers are on this high level? Many of us never get beyond the "Gimme" stage. And even among those who do rise to the level of real thanksgiving, it is rare enough to find those who are grateful not only for the sun, the moon, the stars, the flowers, the birds, the bees, the butterflies, the fish, the trees, the rocks, the mountains, the oceans, the continents, the world, the universe, but for the very fact that they are alive and conscious of their own existence.

This is a high plane, to be reached only by high souls, those who have been intimate enough with Christ to absorb his spirit and attitude. Stupid people, who do not have very good minds, cannot be expected to appreciate blessings of the mind; and people with small and wizened souls cannot feel blessings of the spirit. And only those who practice the Golden Rule every day, so as to put themselves into other places, and who cultivate the gift of sympathy so as to "rejoice with those that rejoice and weep with those that weep," can have the heart to be thankful when others receive the highest blessings of heaven.

DEVOTIONAL READING: Isaiah 40:1-11

Thanking God

Lesson for November 23, 1952

IT IS hard to imagine Jesus observing exactly one day in the year, no more, as a Thanksgiving day. This is not to say that the idea of Thanksgiving Day is a bad one. The Jews of ancient times, whose religious observances Jesus closely kept, had a whole week of celebrations in the fall, corresponding somewhat to our Thanksgiving day. But the heart of gratitude was not to be limited by the calendar.

Mistakes About Thanksgiving—There are three mistakes which are commonly made with reference to Thanksgiving day. We have a tendency to think of it as a day of limiting our blessings to one day. We count our blessings on this one day of the year, we have a kind of "binge" of gratitude.

Another sort of mistake, made by a great many, even of those who are called Christians, is to use the day for purposes that have nothing at all to do with it. Instead of worshipful gratitude to God for his blessings of the year past, the day is commonly used by many for eating too much or for getting drunk at football games.

Retail stores use the day to usher in the Christmas season. In fact, not so many years ago the commercial interests of the country were successful in pushing the day back a whole week just in order to have a long season in which to sell "Christmas" merchandise.

But the purpose of the day is not to make money, but to win football games or to get stuffed with turkey.

Grace Before Shakespeare—A third mistake is to be thankful for only one kind of thing; namely, material blessings such as food, security, peace and good business. Now our Lord was grateful for such things. More than once we read of his taking bread and giving thanks for it. But as he knew that man does not live by bread alone, so man should not give thanks for bread alone. Most of Jesus' prayers of thanksgiving are for other and higher blessings.

Some well-known writer once commented on our custom of saying "Grace before meat"—the old expression for what is now often called "taking the blessing" at the table. His God and other blessings for us?

When a person sits down with a great play (say by Shakespeare) in his hand, why not a "Grace before Shakespeare"? MARION BRUNSON

Pvt. Marion Brunson has completed his basic combat training at the Signal Corps Replacement Training Center in Camp Gordon, Ga. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Brunson of Elba. Brunson is a graduate of Troy State Teachers' College and was employed as a public school teacher in Perry.

PAUL PARKER

Paul Parker, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Parker, Rt. 4, Elba, is completing his Air Force basic training. He is a member of the Elba AFB, San Antonio, Texas.

Mrs. J. H. Williams has her dinner guests Sunday Mrs. L. C. Harrison and children of Enterprise, Mr. and Mrs. James Dale of Enterprise and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Stinson of Dothan. Tuesday Mrs. Williams spent the day with her niece, Mrs. Freeman Flowers in Jack making syrup.

36-year-old Jack-of-all-trades has been building the new house almost single-handed during summers, weekends, and any spare time he can find.

The front door will have 15 panels of thick pine recessed and carved by the gifted young artist-teacher-marionette maker into the 12 signs of the zodiac, with three panels for another door. The front door will be paneled in pine, a foot and a half wide. The stairs are hand-carved oak blocks.

Bob Hughes is his own architect, designing the house himself and working from a set of blueprints. It is a combination of modern and traditional. The living room has a large picture window, composed of twelve panes which saves the expense of a single sheet of plate glass, and has the advantage of individuality.

The kitchen will be done in white oak, and has a laundry shoot down into the basement.

Looking tanned and rugged, with a crew cut, duntages and G.I. shoes, Bob didn't think he was doing anything particularly remarkable in building his own house. Although he was aboard the first landing craft to hit the beach on D-Day, he knows he is not the first amateur to build a home for his family in this area. And he pointed out that he didn't get the cellular and has no intention of installing the furnace and plumbing.

Community Holds Kid's Traffic School

HARVEY, Ill.—The safety committee of the Elba community recently on a downtown plot. Students were the children of the Elba community, and they were taught how to be safer pedestrians.

A miniature traffic pattern was drawn on the pavement with lines and water, and small-sized pedal automobiles were used to simulate life-sized cars. Boys and girls took turns acting as pedestrians, motorists, and traffic officers.

Funeral services were held on Nov. 24 at Friendship Church. Elder Jim Richards officiating. Burial services were held at the Elba cemetery. The casket was borne by the Elba community, and the service was held at the Elba cemetery.

WASHBOARD SERENADE

Kitchenettes Make Music For Town Park

BIGLERSVILLE, Pa.—There's a Mardi Gras air today in this thriving little community, not far from historic Gettysburg. And it's the women of the town who are responsible.

The girls have banded together to form the novel Biglerville Kitchenettes, members of which use all manner of kitchen utensils to produce music.

Community Betterment

The 40 members of the band have one aim—entertainment. Every night, right now, the town needs a new playground or a public park.

While the serenade is going on, non-playing girls pass bread-baskets and refreshments among the audience, wheeling and cajoling contributions from the delighted audience.

Unique Auctions

Unique auction sales also further the Kitchenette cause.

Famed writers, painters and other creative-minded people are intrigued by the Biglerville project, have contributed valuable items.

Mr. Paul is a prominent attorney and newly-elected city leader of the Troy District. Every one is invited to attend the service.

JUDGE CARNLEY HOME

Judge J. A. Carnley is recuperating at his home after undergoing treatment in Enterprise hospital for two weeks for a recurrence of an old ailment.

GOING SOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. Math McCollough left the first of the week for Umatilla, Fla., where they will spend the winter. Mr. McCollough said they would probably return in March.

Builds Own House; Beats Housing Shortage

BERLIN, N.H.—One way to beat the housing shortage—if you have the time and talent, backbone and brains—is to go out in the woods and build your own house with your own hands.

That's what Bob Hughes, Berlin artist and high school senior, decided to do about two years ago, and if all goes well, he hopes to move into his new home in a few months.
